A NOTE FROM THE PUBLISHER SUZANNE SLESIN

It gives me great pleasure to present the new Pointed Leaf Press catalog for Fall 2021. For all of us, it has been a challenging 18 months, and so, more than ever, I am grateful for the continued support of our extraordinarily loyal team, our authors, and all the people who have, in spite of many demanding circumstances, managed to help us get our books out into the world. We are especially grateful to our readers, who continue to appreciate what we set out to do when I founded the company in 2002. Pointed Leaf Press has grown to become one of the top—and award winning—publishers of illustrated books in the worlds of interior design, fashion, art, and photography. As a former art historian, and after more than 35 years as a journalist, editor, and reporter at such publications as the New York Times, as well as at numerous magazines, including New York, Esquire, and House & Garden, I continue to be fascinated by the careers and accomplishments—as well as the intimate and powerful stories—of the talented people in the creative fields that are so influential and essential to the world in which we live. At Pointed Leaf Press, I work closely with our team to ensure that each of our books is designed, produced, and edited to the highest standards. Each of our titles is individualistic and created to suit the needs and aspirations of its author—whether to feature the work of top interiors and garden designers and architects or to reintroduce the work of legendary photographers. Collecting, a lifelong passion, is another focus of many of our books, offering a glimpse into subjects that are both original and stimulating. This season, two of our new titles seem particularly appropriate as the world is opening up: Jiun Ho: Experience will, without a doubt, get you out of the house with a desire for traveling to exotic places and thinking about how a designer's inspirations for his furniture, lighting, and textile designs are translated from his life experiences. Dual Nature, by Jane Rosen, is the first monograph on the artist's work—a document of her travels from the East Coast to the West Coast and back again—voyages that coalesced in meticulously crafted and beautiful works. I am particularly proud that many of our custom books have not only been successful in the marketplace, but also serve as efficient marketing and branding tools for their authors. I hope you will reach out to me personally, visit our website, interact with us through social media, and continue to value the illustrated book as one of the most vital and important cultural elements of our time.

DUAL NATURE

BY JANE ROSEN
FOREWORD BY RICHARD WHITTAKER

Dual Nature is the first monograph to explore the remarkable life and career of American artist Jane Rosen, whose work in stone, glass, and on paper spans more than four decades. Born and raised in New York, Rosen established her reputation as a keen observer and interpreter of the modern world in the high-energy, experimental art scene of the 1970s and 1980s SoHo and Greenwich Village. In 1989, she took a leave from city life and rented a home situated on a ranch in Northern California. Her bold decision to escape the familiar and work closer to nature would dramatically expand her art—forever reinforcing the “dual nature” of her rich creative life, influenced by both East Coast and West Coast, culture and nature, minimalism and imagery. In more than 180 photographs, including many pages from Rosen’s personal journals, Dual Nature reflects on the range of the artist’s most important work and most meaningful influences—including family, friends, mentors, students, and the hawks, foxes, horses, and beloved rescue dogs she has encountered in a life of constant artistic exploration.

JANE ROSEN is an artist whose sculpture and drawings are exhibited and collected internationally. Honored for her work by the National Endowment for the Arts and the American Academy of Arts and Letters, she has taught at the School of Visual Arts (New York City), the University of California at Berkeley, the University of California at Davis, Bard College (Annandale, New York), Stanford University (Stanford, California), and the Lacoste School of the Arts (Lacoste, France). A native of New York City, Rosen now lives and works in San Gregorio, California.

RICHARD WHITTAKER is the publisher of the art journal works & conversations, the West Coast editor of Parabola, and a lifelong photographer and artist.

JIUN HO: EXPERIENCE

BY JIUN HO
WRITTEN WITH NANCY GREYSTONE

Multidisciplinary designer and ardent world traveler Jiun Ho looks back on a life of global exploration, inspiration, determination, and boundless creativity in Jiun Ho: Experience, the first monograph from a creative force who has gained international attention for his harmonious, well-balanced interiors and innovative furniture, lighting, and textile designs. Jiun’s body of work, informed by elements observed in the world around him, draws deeply on the colors, textures, and shapes of nature, the designer’s greatest inspiration. When Jiun was eight years old, his mother took him aside and gave him a single sentence of advice: “You can be poor in life, but Jiun, you should never be poor in experiences.” Those words have gone on to influence all the decisions he has made from that day forward. Tracing his journeys across the continents with camera and sketchbook in hand, Jiun Ho: Experience is an inspiring travelogue as well as a document of the designer’s best work, including luxury hotels, resorts, restaurants, and private residences around the world.

ONCE UPON A PILLOW

A Story of Home, Design, and Exquisite Textiles

BY REBECCA VIZARD
FOREWORD BY NEWELL TURNER

Once Upon a Pillow features a stunning collection of pillows and accessories designed by Rebecca Vizard. Celebrated for her innovative use of rare antique textiles—from the embroidered metallic threads of ecclesiastical vestments to Venetian Fortuny fabrics and Central Asian suzani—her designs present a perfect balance of art and material culture. A favorite of designers and a discerning public, her pillows and accessories adorn some of America’s finest homes. An early childhood fascination with textiles eventually led her to create pillows from her growing personal collection of rare textiles and, when Neiman Marcus placed its first order in 1999, B VIZ Design was officially launched. While her collecting forays frequently take her abroad, she returns to her Louisiana roots and its rich history and tradition of decorative arts for inspiration. In addition to Vizard’s home, rooms in a range of styles and periods by such top-flight designers as Gerrie Bremermann, Barry Dixon, Suzanne Kasler, and Matthew Patrick Smyth are included to illustrate embroidery, appliqué, tapestry, needlepoint, Fortuny, damask, brocade, as well as suzani and ethnic pillows. A selection of accessories from lighting to gifts, and an annotated textile glossary are included.

Early in her career, while working on interior design projects from New York to New Orleans, REBECCA VIZARD noticed a void in the pillow market. Discovering a niche for antique textiles, Vizard focused on designing these one-of-a-kind pillows for clients, and in the process employed many local seamstresses. Soon her pillows sold to Neiman Marcus and other exclusive stores. Her pillows frequently grace the covers of national publications, such as House Beautiful, Veranda, Elle Decor, Traditional Home, and Architectural Digest.

CURTAIN UP!

Thirty Years of Spectacular Showhouse Rooms

BY BARBARA OSTROM
PREFACE BY MARIO BUATTA

Curtain Up!: Thirty Years of Spectacular Showhouse Rooms is a glossy compendium of interior designer Barbara Ostrom's extraordinary rooms that she has created in the past 30 years for the most prestigious showhouses in New York City, New Jersey, and the Hamptons. With a preface by Mario Buatta, the book highlights some of Barbara's most wildly imaginative and over-the-top rooms. It also displays her process from start to finish, where she often has to begin with a gutted, crumbling room. The results are whimsical and colorful, with details ranging from a crystal chandelier adorned with an umbrella, ten foot-high canopy beds, antique birdcages, Fu dogs, a 15th century knight in armor, Grecian gas lights, a handwoven hammock from Jamaica, to ceilings painted with monkeys, parrots, squirrels, and butterflies. Ostrom's rooms are exuberant and uplifting—no wonder she's been dubbed "Queen of the Showhouse."

BARBARA OSTROM, A.S.I.D., is one of the nation's leading experts in the design of classical and architectural detailing, she regularly consults with builders of high-end residential and commercial installations. She has been participating in showhouses for over 30 years, culminating in over 75 rooms. The residential clients of Barbara Ostrom Associates have included President and Mrs. Richard Nixon, Michael Strahan, and Kimora Lee and Russell Simmons.

HOLIDAY HOUSE

Ten Years of Decorating for a Cure

BY IRIS DANKNER
FOREWORD BY CHRISTOPHER HYLAND

Published in conjunction with the tenth year of the New York-based showhouse Holiday House, this book highlights the best and brightest rooms created by some of the world's leading designers. Holiday House: Ten Years of Decorating for a Cure is a celebration of the union of design and philanthropy. The Holiday House Showhouse was founded by IRIS DANKNER to raise breast cancer awareness in the design industry. Iris is a 20-year breast cancer survivor, and has made it her mission to raise funds for breast cancer research and to support women who need help fighting this disease. In 2008, combining her two passions—her love of design and her efforts to help women in need—Iris created Holiday House, the first designer showhouse held in New York to benefit a breast cancer organization. In this lavish book, the magic and skill of interior designers come to life as empty rooms are transformed by a variety of interpretations. Recruiting top interior designers in the New York area, the showhouse was held in the Academy Mansion, an historic house on Manhattan's Upper East Side, and was a resounding success, with all proceeds donated to the quest to end the scourge of breast cancer. Since its inception, Holiday House has featured the foremost interior designers in the industry, received critical acclaim, been endorsed by some of the most celebrated global luxury brands, and has expanded to showhouses in the Hamptons on Long Island, Soho in downtown Manhattan and, in the Fall of 2017 in London, England.

A LA CARTE

The Elements of an Elegant Home

BY SHERRILL CANET

For New York-based interior designer Sherrill Canet, the past is something to be recreated with relish and ambition. The decorator takes her cues from disparate periods, regions, and artifacts to craft an unmistakably refined aesthetic: eighteenth-century French and English antiques, chinoiserie, painted furniture, Art Deco, the glamour of the Gilded Age, and the mansions that once dotted the Gold Coast of Long Island, New York—a region Canet also calls home—are all incorporated. Illustrated with principal photography by Michel Arnaud, À La Carte brings together Canet's work and commentary to create an exclusive tutorial on decorating in a range of elegant styles, from Old World traditional to chic and tailored. Whether your library is a modern den or a gentleman's English country retreat, Canet's advice on choosing the room's essential elements is always keen—with comfort and function in mind.

Incorporating a love of antiques and fine detail into all of her projects, SHERRILL CANET creates gracious and comfortable settings that mix the old with the new, giving her clients' homes a classic and timeless appeal. Canet attended the Inchbald School of Design in London, and graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in Economics from Fordham University. She has offices in Manhattan, Locust Valley, New York, and Palm Beach, Florida.

ITALY OF MY DREAMS

The Story of an American Designer's Real Life Passion for Italian Style

BY MATTHEW WHITE

Italy of My Dreams: The Story of an American Designer's Real Life Passion for Italian Style is the expansive culmination of what began as the childhood pursuit of "tiny bits of Eden" in Amarillo, Texas, and developed into a deep personal connection with the art and architecture of Italy. Full of theatrical, bold exteriors, and interiors adorned with classical flourishes, each featured project is a unique testament to the designer's appreciation of Italian design. Worn, reclaimed beams complement sweeping Venetian doors, lush rooftop gardens recall the Southern Italian countryside—these are modern spaces steeped in an historic sensibility, yet free of replication or pastiche. While the locations change—from California villas to a palazzo in New York—the designer's passion remains true, making Italy of My Dreams an intimate inspirational celebration of Italian style.

MATTHEW WHITE is an American interior designer whose work has been featured in nearly every American shelter magazine. In 2003 he joined forces with Frank Webb, launching the design firm White Webb, LLC. He serves on the board of Save Venice Inc., and the Historic Preservation Committee for the hamlet of Hillsdale, New York.

KABBALAH IN ART AND ARCHITECTURE

BY ALEXANDER GORLIN

WINNER OF THE 2013 NATIONAL JEWISH BOOK AWARD

The Kabbalistic idea of creation, as expressed through light, space, and geometry, has left its unmistakable mark on our civilization. Drawing upon a wide array of historical materials and stunning images of contemporary art, sculpture, and architecture, architect Alexander Gorlin explores the influence, whether actually acknowledged or not, of the Kabbalah on modern design in his unprecedented book, Kabbalah in Art and Architecture. Gorlin brings light to the translation of the mystical philosophy into a physical form, drawing clear comparisons between philosophy and design that will excite and exalt. Comprising ten chapters that each outline key concepts of the Kabbalah and its representations, both in historic diagrams and the modern built environment, Kabbalah in Art and Architecture puts forth an unparalleled and compelling reinterpretation of art and architecture through the lens of the Kabbalah and Jewish mysticism. A chapter on the Golem, and an epilogue that discusses German artist Anselm Kiefer's powerful interpretations of the Kabbalah, complete this unique book.

BY SUSAN ROY

Bomboozled: How the U.S. Government Misled Itself and Its People into Believing They Could Survive a Nuclear Attack lays bare the buried truths of America's family fallout shelter obsession. Author Susan Roy charts the panic-fueled evolution of the shelter from a well-stocked basement pantry to a full-fledged (and often completely decorated) home addition, revealing through extensive archival photography, nuclear-era memorabilia, and previously unpublished media, a government and a people in the grip of self-delusion. Fastidiously researched and sharply written, Bomboozled captures the absurdity and uncertainty of a culture that knew no better than to trust its government's message.

SUSAN ROY is a writer and editor on architecture, design, and cultural history. The founding managing editor of Allure magazine, she has also held senior editorial positions at This Old House, SELF, Good Housekeeping and Avenue. ULTRAMODERN

Samuel Marx: Architect, Designer, Art Collector

BY LIZ O'BRIEN

Although Samuel Abraham Marx was born at the end of the 19th century, he had the eye of a modernist—as an architect, furniture designer, connoisseur, and collector. His vision was neither ostentatious nor grandiose, but subtle and quietly magnificent. Ultramodern Samuel Marx: Architect, Designer, Art Collector is the first monograph on this lesser-known but increasingly influential American designer. In more than 200 photographs, Marx expert and decorative arts dealer Liz O'Brien reveals many of his undiscovered projects, including houses that have been razed despite preservationists' protests, as well as his range of furniture designs. Throughout his career, Marx was sought after for his ability to integrate art in luxury interiors. The private art collections of many of his wealthy clients have, in the past 40 years, been dispersed to major museums, including the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Museum of Modern Art in New York, and the Art Institute of Chicago.

LIZ O'BRIEN is a decorative-arts dealer specializing in modern design. Her interest in Marx began more than ten years ago when she first showed his furniture designs in her New York gallery, making some of his best pieces available to interior designers and collectors. O'Brien is now recognized as a leading Marx expert and has been instrumental in placing him as an important figure in the history of 20th-century architecture and design.

"Rooms designed by Samuel A. Marx have so satisfying a feeling of oneness that it's frequently hard to say where the architecture ends and the furniture begins."

THE GRAPHIC GARDEN

BY KEITH WILLIAMS
PREFACE BY ALEXA HAMPTON

The Graphic Garden is the first monograph from Keith Williams, the partner with Mario Nievera, of Nievera Williams Design—one of the country's leading landscape architecture firms. Based in South Florida, Williams has been designing sumptuous outdoor spaces for over 20 years. In The Graphic Garden, Williams highlights his most impressive projects, including the revitalization of several historically landmarked homes and properties. He often integrates both native and exotic plants, introduces spectacular swimming pools and pavilions, and brings in mature trees and artisan stonework, all of which result in tranquil, welcoming gardens defined by vibrant green walls, flowering shrubs, and tropical foliage. Other design elements include whimsical pool cabanas, a loggia inspired by the architecture of Bermuda, Moorish-tiled fountains, and stone-paved motor courts. The transformations and process of these projects highlight Williams' penchant for sustainability and his efforts to honor the natural landscape while never compromising the design of outdoor living spaces.

KEITH WILLIAMS, a partner at Nievera Williams Design Incorporated, based in Palm Beach, Florida, joined the firm in 1998. Originally from Bloomfield Hills, Michigan, Williams has spent the past 30 years living in South Florida, where he resides with his wife, Nicole Williams, and his daughter, Colette. Keith also has two older sons, Maxwell and Logan Williams. Williams is involved in designing and managing residential and commercial projects in Palm Beach and Miami Beach, Florida, as well as in New York, New Jersey, the Bahamas, Antigua, Shanghai, China, and Dubai.

ARTIFACT

The Art and Gardens of Jeff Mendoza

BY JEFF MENDOZA

Artifact presents the thoughtful and sophisticated landscape designs of Jeff Mendoza. A formally trained artist, his work often reflects the natural world—depicting botanical forms with earthly palettes. He noticed this connection and opened his eponymous firm, J. Mendoza Gardens in 1987. While plants became his medium, he approached the design of a garden in the same manner he would a drawing or painting—considering form, color, texture, scale, and the overall composition. Artifact is a portfolio of Mendoza's accomplished career, tracing his various projects. Whether a city terrace or a country yard, each is intellectually planned for their unique environment and spatial layout.

JEFF MENDOZA is an artist and plantsman who created J. Mendoza Gardens in 1987. His work has been widely published in numerous publications, including House & Garden and Garden Design. His projects included both corporate and residential clients. Now retired, he lives in New York and Vieques, Puerto Rico.

DAWN

The Career of the Legendary Fashion Retailer Dawn Mello

BY JOHN A. TIFFANY
FOREWORD BY TOM FORD

Pointed Leaf Press is proud to present the first monograph on Dawn Mello in a lavishly-illustrated book that spans her impressive career. In 1975, Mello was hired in partnership with then CEO, Ira Neimark, as Fashion Director and VP of Bergdorf Goodman. Together they turned the once dowdy department store into the retail center of luxury fashion. In the late 1980s, Mello left Bergdorf Goodman to revitalize the fading and nearly-bankrupt Gucci. While there, she hired Tom Ford as creative director and Richard Lambertson as design director. By the time she left, Gucci was back on top as a bonafide high-fashion brand. She has spent decades bringing other people's stories to life, silently in the background while others took their bow. She identified talent, pursued designers, and helped launch and nurture their careers. Michael Kors, Donna Karan, Giorgio Armani, Calvin Klein, Azzedine Alaïa, Claude Montana, Jean-Paul Gaultier, Christian Lacroix, Jo Malone—and the list goes on. ## DRAWING FASHION

The Art of Kenneth Paul Block

BY SUSAN MULCAHY
 FOREWORD BY YVES SAINT LAURENT
 INTRODUCTION BY ISAAC MIZRAHI

Kenneth Paul Block was one of the most influential fashion illustrators of the 20th century. His first job was at the powerful Women's Wear Daily in the 1950s, an association that lasted over 30 years, where Block witnessed and recorded one of the most important periods in fashion history—the postwar shift as the exclusive world of couture transformed into prêt-à-porter. Attending all the major fashion shows in Paris, London, and New York, Block was the first one on the scene, drawing the latest style-setting clothes from such venerable houses as Balenciaga, Chanel, and Saint Laurent. He also documented the up and coming designers of the time, including Marc Jacobs, Perry Ellis, and Halston. He was well known in society, sketching Gloria Vanderbilt and the Duchess of Windsor among others. He reported on sensational parties in Palm Beach and New York, attended by Babe Paley and Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, and created a unique archive of the era. Drawing Fashion: The Art of Kenneth Paul Block is the first monograph on the artist, and brings together a lifetime of drawings, watercolors, and observations. Fashion illustration disappeared from publications as photography took over, giving added emphasis to this book as an important historical document. Drawing Fashion, designed by Shahid & Company, captures a critical moment in time when fashion, art, and commerce coincided.

BE DAZZLED!

Norman Hartnell: Sixty Years of Glamour and Fashion

BY MICHAEL PICK

Norman Hartnell (1901–1979) was a unique British designer. By the mid-1930s, his meteoric rise to fame had made London a center of style that closely rivaled Paris. While Hartnell clients included members of the English upper class and the best-known stage and film actresses, it was his royal patronage that assured him a place in history. Hartnell's famous White Wardrobe, designed for Queen Elizabeth and photographed by Cecil Beaton, changed the image of royalty forever. The Queen's extraordinary Coronation dress, as well as the sublime wedding gown created for Princess Margaret, remains iconic to this day. Decades of achievement were rewarded with a knighthood in 1977, making Sir Norman Hartnell the first fashion designer to be so honored. In Be Dazzled! Norman Hartnell: Sixty Years of Glamour and Fashion, the only illustrated monograph on this couturier, royal enthusiasts and style connoisseurs can examine Hartnell's never-before published drawings, vintage photographs, fabric samples, and personal scrapbooks.

MICHAEL PICK is the author of six books on interiors and the decorative arts. His articles have appeared in The Times, the Daily Telegraph, Apollo, Connoisseur, Tatler, Harpers & Queen, and Vogue UK. A Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts, Pick is an acknowledged authority and respected lecturer in his field.

IN DREAMS AWAKE

BY KATHY RUTTENBERG

On April 27, 2018, six large-scale sculptures were unveiled along New York's historic Broadway—from across from Lincoln Center, at 64th Street and extending up to 157th Street. The artist, Kathy Ruttenberg, most known for her fantastical mix of human, nature, and plant forms used in ceramics, watercolor, and sculpture, spent months planning, designing, and executing the works. From an armless mouse atop a squash-like pedestal, to an upside-down female Atlas, a woman caught in a contemplative moment while inside a snail's shell, and a deer-man and his tree-lady partner who walk in an embrace—these fairytale-like creatures are juxtaposed against New York's chaotic urban landscape. In Dreams Awake—also the name of the installation—tracks Ruttenberg's progress from concept to the final results. Sponsored by the Broadway Mall Association, the installation remained up through March 2019.

Artist KATHY RUTTENBERG has built a career spanning three decades. Her work, which has garnered both critical acclaim and awards, has been exhibited and collected worldwide—from the Tisch Children's Zoo in New York's Central Park to the Mamiraua Sustainable Development Reserve in Amazonas, Brazil.

Bennett of the Wildlife Conservation Society, the book also features a tour of her amazing estate and studio in upstate New York, where pigs, rabbits, chickens, and goats live in a bucolic and artistic surrounding. A conversation between Ruttenberg and Sir John Richardson on her 2014 exhibition at Stux Gallery in Manhattan is also featured.

JACK

Drawings and Paintings by Jack Ceglic
2009–2012

BY JACK CEGLIC

Pulling together a fine balance between light, vibrant color, and the personality of his models, JACK CEGLIC captures his subjects in moments of what seem to be their purest truths. His candid and engaging portraits keep the viewer oscillating between wanting to know more about his subjects, and keeping a cool, introspective distance from them. While some of J.Ceglic's friends are well-known and some not, Jack likes to maintain a level of anonymity for all of his subjects. "One has to trust the eye, the brain, and the way you react to something," says the artist whose previous career includes being one of the creators of Dean & DeLuca, as well as being a designer of innovative residences, including his own home and studio in East Hampton, New York. "I want to secure a likeness that I believe I see." With a preface by Pulitzer-Prize winning poet Philip Schultz and an interview by actor and director Joe Mantello, Jack: Drawings and Paintings by Jack Ceglic, 2009-2012 comprises an insightful, evocative, and timeless oeuvre.

GEORGIAN AND VICTORIAN BOARD GAMES: THE LIMAN COLLECTION

As the turn of the 18th and 19th century approached in Great Britain, more and more parents and teachers embraced a suggestion from the philosopher John Locke, that "learning might be made a play and recreation to children." Georgian and Victorian Board Games: The Liman Collection beautifully demonstrates board games from the time. Showcasing 55 such games that were made for both instruction and delight, the book reflects on a trans-Atlantic market that flourished into and through the 19th century. Although games were often printed on linen or board instead of delicate paper, many fell apart thanks to enthusiastic use. But those that do survive open a window onto the time period in which they were created, reflecting its social and moral priorities as well as nearly every educational subject. Georgian and Victorian Board Games: The Liman Collection enables us to follow the course of the Industrial Revolution and the expansion of the British Empire alongside changing attitudes toward childhood and education—shining a light on a corner of children's culture and the adults that created it.

"Printed in an oversize format, which allows you to appreciate the impressive details that fill these boards—but best of all, the book has five gatefolds that open out to reveal five games."

A LIFE OF THINGS

BY DANIEL ROZENSZTROCH

A Life of Things presents the eccentric world of Daniel Rozensztroch and his innumerable collections of everyday things, which encompass the worlds of art, antiques, found objects, and everything in between. Collected over years of traveling the world, the obsessive collections of objects range from the ordinary to the sublime, and include hundreds of toothbrushes, glass globes for lacemaking, sailor iconography, vases from the Jin dynasty, tin frames, Christmas ornaments, and Japanese folk art. Photographed in their settings in his apartments in Paris and Nice, France, the book allows for a fascinating look into the two homes as cabinets of curiosities. As Rozensztroch explains, "A collection can be three or 300 objects and the subject of this book is how I see them as being related to each other and how I live with them and appreciate them every day."

PARIS AVANT QU'IL NE SOIT TROP TARD/ PARIS BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE

BY THOMAS MICHAEL GUNTHER

Paris, Before It Is Too Late is a curated selection of 60 vintage photographs by the French photographer André Ostier. Spanning the career of Ostier from his days in Paris during World War II through the 1960s and 1970s, these striking images capture the City of Light through his eyes, and instill a certain sense of nostalgia. The famous fashion photographer, known for his work with the couturier Christian Dior, sought to document a fleeting Old Paris by capturing its people, buildings, and the special moments of the city he so admired. Part of the book is a replica of an album Ostier put together himself, Paris, avant qu'il ne soit trop tard, but the book also includes a specially curated selection of rare and haunting images he took during the war.

The insatiable visual curiosity of the Paris photographer André Ostier (1906–1994) led him to capture a wealth of images during his lifetime. Known for his portraits of artists and writers, Ostier also chronicled the fancy-dress balls of the glamorous 1950s and 1960s. In this work, THOMAS MICHAEL GUNTHER, the Paris-based historian of photography, takes a close look at the passion and conviction that characterize André Ostier's views of the City of Light.

HOTEL CHELSEA

PHOTOGRAPHS BY VICTORIA COHEN

Notorious as a refuge for the eccentric, the eclectic, and the creative, the Hotel Chelsea has been home to some of the great and unconventional writers, musicians, artists, and actors of the past century, including Bob Dylan, Janis Joplin, Charles Bukowski, and Allen Ginsberg, to name just a few. When the hotel was sold and closed for full renovations in August 2011, American photographer Victoria Cohen was invited to capture and document the essence of the building's original interior before it's imminent demise. Cohen's photographs of these hallways, lobbies, and rooms, once beaming with life and vision, now bare and aged, illuminate a bohemian era that once was, speaking untold truths of a lost time. Fascinating and bittersweet, Hotel Chelsea casts the historic landmark through the lens of the twenty-first century, exhibiting it as it has never been seen before, and will never be seen again.

VICTORIA COHEN is a New York-based photographer. Self-taught, Cohen shoots mostly in the large format 4 x 5 medium. Her work ranges from landscapes to portraiture, with an emphasis on the connection between the human condition and environments.

Twenty-eight full-color photographs of various torn and decaying billboards from the streets of New York resemble paper collages, revealing the strange and unexpected layers of billboards past. Grey's striking photographs are of tapestries of embedded memories—constantly fleeting and subject to change, or demolition, or renewal. The Billboard Papers, designed by Sam Shahid, features an introduction by Grey and a preface by American artist Ross Bleckner. The Billboard Papers is published in a limited edition of 600 numbered copies.

JOEL GREY is an American stage and screen actor, singer, and dancer, known for his role as the Master of Ceremonies in both the stage and film adaptations of the musical Cabaret. He has won the Academy Award, a Tony Award, and a Golden Globe Award.

TALKING HEADS

The Vent Haven Portraits

BY MATTHEW ROLSTON

Influential American celebrity photographer and creative director Matthew Rolston turns his eye for portraiture to a new cast of characters with the launch of Talking Heads: The Vent Haven Portraits. Using techniques he has honed over decades of celebrity portraiture, and marking his first foray into the world of fine arts, Rolston has captured the inherent humanity of a never-before-seen collection of unique entertainment figures: ventriloquism dummies. Unearthed from the tiny Vent Haven Museum in Fort Mitchell, Kentucky, Rolston uses a rigorously simplistic photographic style to bring out the power in the faces of these figures through a series of 100 portraits, or “headshots.”

MATTHEW ROLSTON painstakingly selected the faces he was most drawn to and, in particular, those that conveyed a sense of character through pronounced aging, exaggerated features, and ornately painted faces, drawing the eye directly to the face and to the bizarre human quality of each dummy. Breathing life into these inanimate figures, Rolston channels their sustained energetic presences that are at once commanding, totemic, and unnervingly familiar.

“Astonishing and spooky.”

K9-5

New York Dogs at Work

PHOTOGRAPHS BY MICHELLE ROSE
PREFACE BY BASHKIM DIBRA

K9-5: New York Dogs at Work is a collection of photographs that celebrate the culture in New York of bringing your dog to work. Studies have shown that having dogs in the office lowers stress and can even increase productivity. New Yorkers are known for having the longest work weeks, resulting in many bringing their pooches with them to work. Featuring the offices of lawyers, hair salons, interior designers, furniture and textile showrooms, architects, jewelry boutiques, art galleries, and many more—with all types of dogs from Dachshunds, Shih Tzus, a Great Dane, Labradoodles, Corgis, French and English Bulldogs, to mixed breeds, rescues, and others. With photography by Michelle Rose and a preface by famed dog trainer and author Bashkim Dibra, the book intimately shows these adorable ‘workers’ and the beautiful spaces they inhabit from nine to five.

MICHELLE ROSE is from West Virginia and has been living and working in New York for the past 20 years. She worked full-time for renowned architect Alan Wanzenberg for over 12 years, photographing his projects. Her work has been published in Architectural Digest, Elle Decor, The Wall Street Journal and The New York Times, and featured in Journey: The Life and Times of an American Architect by Alan Wanzenberg (Pointed Leaf Press), The Bald Mermaid by Sheila Bridges (Pointed Leaf Press), and an upcoming book from Heath Ceramics.

MOHAMMAD, MY MOTHER, & ME

BY BENOIT COHEN

Benoit Cohen, a French filmmaker living in New York, learns that his mother Marie-France, is about to welcome Mohammad, an Afghan refugee, into her mansion in the center of Paris where she lives alone. Cohen can't help but worry about his mother who is opening her home to a stranger. He returns to France to encounter Mohammad. Between Cohen, who had chosen to leave his hometown, and Mohammad, who had no choice in his fate, an intense relationship is born under the gaze of Marie-France who completes this unlikely trio. In this singular narrative, the author describes with warmth and humor the exhilarating and circuitous path that defines what "to give" means in the complexity of the modern world.

Born in 1969, BENOIT COHEN is a French producer, filmmaker, and screenwriter. After studying filmmaking at NYU, he started his own production company, Shadows Films, produced several short films, and directed his first feature, Chameleon in 1996. Between 2000 and 2014, Cohen made five other feature films, a few documentaries and three TV series. His last movie, You'll Be A Man was a significant success at film festivals around the United States (selected for more than 60 festivals and won 40 awards).

In 2014, after moving to Brooklyn, Cohen drove a taxi cab around the five boroughs, for several months, to gain perspective for a screenplay about a French actress becoming a taxi driver in New York. He wrote Yellow Cab, a book about this experience, which was published in May 2017 by Pointed Leaf Press. Mohammad, My Mother & Me, is his second book to be published in the United States.

YELLOW CAB

A French Filmmaker's American Dream

BY BENOIT COHEN

French filmmaker Benoit Cohen decided, while doing research for the screenplay of his new movie, to become a New York taxi driver. After passing his license, he spent several months roaming the five boroughs behind the wheel of a yellow cab that he rented every morning from a garage in Queens. This book is the journal of his extraordinary adventure—the story of the pursuit of his "American dream." The book also includes Cohen's "on-duty" and "off-duty" experiences of eating at some of New York's most famous restaurants and eateries. A directory of those are included in the back.

Born in 1969, BENOIT COHEN is a French producer, filmmaker and screenwriter. He directed six feature films as well as many documentaries and TV series in France. His last movie, You'll Be A Man, was a great success in US Film Festivals (39 awards) and is now on Netflix. He moved to Brooklyn with his family in 2014. Yellow Cab is his first book.

"The well-paced book skillfully mixes rides, family souvenirs and thoughts about movies stirred by days behind the wheel. Inside a yellow taxi you learn a lot about New Yorkers."

THE BALD MERMAID

A Memoir

BY SHEILA BRIDGES

The inspiring memoir of interior designer Sheila Bridges, The Bald Mermaid: A Memoir comprises engaging and deeply personal vignettes that explore questions of identity, femininity, race, success, and what it really means to have it all. After receiving degrees from two prestigious universities, Bridges became very successful in her career as an interior designer, creating homes for high-profile clients, and even hosting her own television show. But when she lost her hair due to alopecia, she lost it all: This is her story of coming to terms with what success and happiness mean to her, realizing the cost of independence, and understanding what it means to stay true to herself in the face of judgment, criticism, and expectation from family, friends, lovers, and strangers. Beautifully illustrated with personal photographs and images of Bridges' interior designs, The Bald Mermaid is a delightfully candid, insightful, and often-humorous narrative of Bridges' ups and downs, and how she ultimately found balance and peace in her multi-layered life.

SHEILA BRIDGES, named "America's Best Interior Designer" by CNN and Time, founded her own interior design firm in New York in 1994. She has been a regular contributor on NBC's Today Show, hosted her own cable network television show, appeared on Oprah, and has been profiled in numerous national and international publications. She lives and works in Harlem, New York, and relaxes at her weekend home in the Hudson Valley, in upstate New York. The Bald Mermaid: A Memoir is her second book.

TEACHING TYPE TO TALK

BY ALAN PECKOLICK
WITH ESSAYS BY IVAN CHERMAYEFF,
GEORGE LOIS, JAN V. WHITE, AND INA SALTZ

Accompanying the revolutionary spirit taking hold of American culture in the mid-1960s and 1970s, American graphic designer Alan Peckolick heralded a movement in graphic design known as expressive typography. Along with his mentor and icon, Herb Lubalin, Peckolick called for a new caliber of design: Dreaming up and hand-drawing letterforms that had never existed before, with type, which once played an exclusively supporting role to the graphic image now taking center stage. Calling for conceptual typography over a standardized format, Peckolick gave letterforms a presence on the page, and also an attitude: His designs talk back, and always speak up. Teaching Type to Talk is the first-ever compendium to span the typographer’s career. Peckolick’s work is equal parts witty, shrewd, and impeccable, and is accompanied by original anecdotes as insightful and tongue-in-cheek as his designs.

ALAN PECKOLICK was an internationally acclaimed graphic designer and artist. His projects included logo designs, posters, packaging, annual reports, corporate identity, and annual reports for a wide range of organizations, such as New York University, Revlon, General Motors, and AT&T. His designs earned him over 500 design awards worldwide, including six gold medals from the Art Directors Club of New York.
